

We have had great success in utilizing a "Master List" as a tool to assist with the selection process. Those on the list can either take or pass from each available litter based on the date of which the application was approved and deposit received. We have color coded preferences by male female either Most people are looking for a specific type of pup, so just because there are many on the list doesn't necessarily mean you will not get one of your first 3 choices. We hope this will help to eliminate the confusion of transferring the waiting list from one litter to the next. It is our experience, that only about 20-40% of those on the list will choose a pup within this or the next litter. There are many that are waiting for a specific time or pairing. Cavallo Creek as a breeder is always trying to create the perfect "recipe", so we reserve the right to keep up to two pups per litter.
